

Kids' Chance California

Educating Children of Injured Workers

About Us

Kids' Chance of California is a 501(c)(3) non-profit charitable organization whose mission is to provide need-based educational scholarships to the children of California workers who have been fatally or seriously injured on the job.

Why Kids' Chance?

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, in just California alone, there are more than 350 work-related fatalities a year—376 in 2016. Serious accidents can have a devastating impact on families, especially children, as parents must face the hurdle of funding their children's education—the key to their future and ours. Together, with your help, we can make a difference in California.

The Faces of Kids' Chance of California

Cameron

"The Kids' Chance of California scholarship has helped me realize my parents' dream of me attending college. After my mom and dad's passing, my sister and I knew we would face financial struggles. With the help of Kids' Chance of California, the financial struggle of attending college has gone away and made higher education an actual possibility for me."

Cameron lost both of his parents in work-related incidents. Following their passing, Cameron's sister was instrumental in helping Cameron fulfill his parents' wish of him going to college.

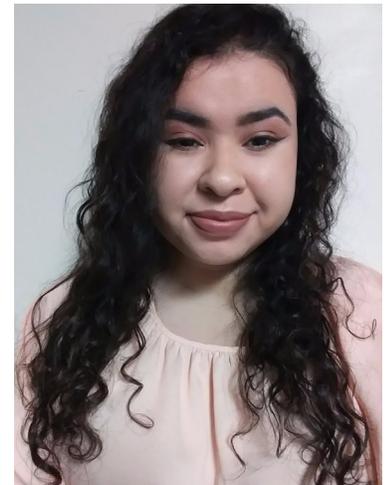

He attends Arizona State University. He is majoring in criminal justice with the goal of becoming a public defender. Search "Kids' Chance of California" on youtube.com to hear Cameron's story.

Heidi

"Attending college can be expensive, and sometimes impossible, for a student that comes from a low-income family. Thanks to the Kids' Chance of California scholarship, I'm able to pursue my dream of going to college."

Heidi's father suffered from a severe head injury while on the job when a pipe exploded. The accident had a significant impact on the family's income and financial stability.

Heidi is attending the University of California, San Diego, majoring in sociology and minoring in educational studies. She hopes to pursue a career in social work or counseling to help students of low socioeconomic status. Search "Kids' Chance of California" on youtube.com to hear Heidi's story.

Congratulations to Our Scholarship Graduates

Kyle

Kyle graduated from Humboldt State University with a Criminal Justice degree in the spring of 2017.

He is attending the Police Academy at the College of the Redwoods in pursuit of a career in law enforcement.

Jayden Raye

Jayden Raye, our 2017 David DePaolo Memorial scholarship recipient, graduated from U.C. Berkeley with a political science degree in the winter of 2017.

With help from Kids' Chance, she was able to fund her school tuition, work as a Congressional intern in Washington D.C., study abroad in Berlin, Germany, and completed a political consulting internship in New York City. She recently accepted a full-time job as a political communications consultant.
