

Kids' Chance California

Educating Children of Injured Workers

Who We Are

Kids' Chance of California is a 501(c)(3) non-profit charitable organization whose mission is to provide need-based educational scholarships to the children of California workers who have been fatally or seriously injured on the job.

Why Kids' Chance?

According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, in California alone, there are more than 350 work-related fatalities a year — 422 in 2018. Serious accidents can have a devastating impact on families, especially children, as parents must face the hurdle of funding their children's education — the key to their future and ours. Together, with your help, we can make a difference in California.

Daniella

"My life has truly been a journey, and honestly it has not been easy. I am certainly grateful to have been through what I have been through as without this journey, I would not be who I am today. Thank you for your support, Kids' Chance of California."

Daniella is studying Biology at California Lutheran University and plans to go into sports medicine.

Harrison

"It changed my life knowing that there were places like Kids' Chance with supportive people who help students whose parents have been killed or hurt on the job. With the generosity of Kids' Chance, I was able to focus less on the financial aspect of planning for college and more on my workload as well as football."

Harrison graduated from Azusa Pacific University in 2019 with a Bachelor of Science in Accounting.

Supporting Families of Injured Workers

Randolph

"Graduating during the COVID-19 pandemic definitely had its ups and downs. Not being able to walk during graduation was hard to accept. However, with the support of my friends, family and KCOCA, I'm happy to say WE did it! Now, I'm preparing for UCR's School Psychology PhD program."
Randolph graduated in 2020 from the University of California, Riverside with a degree in Psychology.

Cameron

"After my mom and dad's passing, my sister and I knew we would face financial struggles. With the help of Kids' Chance of California, the financial struggle of attending college went away and made higher education an actual possibility for me."
Cameron graduated from Arizona State University in 2019 with a degree in Criminal Justice.
